FAQ's

How long does it take to complete the program?

Full-time students can complete the degree in about 18-24 months with continuous enrollment. To be considered full-time, a student must be enrolled in at least 6 credit hours each 8 week term. Part-time students can complete the degree requirements in about 3 years with continuous enrollment.

Is financial aid available?

Yes, to be eligible for Federal financial aid, you must be enrolled in at least 3 credit hours each 8 week term. For more information about financial aid, please visit <http://www.stmary.edu/financialaid/default.asp>.

Do you offer credit for life/work experience other than the 30 hours of Nursing Escrow?

If approved, a student may be eligible for life experience credit for a required nursing course. Students must pass the online GE325 Life Experience Research course. GE325 will help the student prepare a portfolio that will be reviewed by the Nursing department. The Nursing Department will evaluate the portfolio for course credit to determine if a student's life/work experience will meet the course objectives and requirements for a specific nursing course. If considering pursuing this option, please contact your advisor for further information.

Are clinicals required?

Yes. However, these clinicals are quite different than the ones completed earlier in your education. The goal of the clinical experience is to accomplish certain course objectives, as opposed to, a requirement to spend a certain number of hours in a specified setting. In essence, the clinical experience is an application project that can be conducted at your place of work or within your community. Ultimately, you can choose your project of interest and complete your project in a variety of different health care settings with your instructor's advice. You will choose a mentor/preceptor who has at least a bachelors degree in nursing to help advise and guide you on your project. We have two courses that require clinical experiences - NU495 Community Health Nursing and NU540 Leadership in Nursing. When these classes begin, your instructor will share the details of the experience with you and your mentor/preceptor.

Is proctoring required for exams?

For most courses, final exams will be completed in the online classroom.

How much time is required each week to complete course assignments?

Expect to spend approximately 15 hours each week for one 3-credit hour course.

How often will I need to come to the main campus?

All coursework is done online. Face to face interaction in a classroom setting is not required. Graduation ceremonies are held on the main campus each May, if students choose to participate.

Do you offer a Master of Science in Nursing online program?

Yes. The Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) Degree program is designed for students who have a Bachelor of Science (BSN) in Nursing degree and a current, unrestricted license as a Registered Nurse (RN) in the United States. The program is built upon The Essentials of Master's Education in Nursing from the American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN). The MSN program is offered online. A nurse educator and a nurse administrator focus are offered.

What is the tuition rate for online course?

Tuition and fees are based on the current catalog online at www.stmary.edu. Tuition and fees are subject to change.

Are there other costs besides books and tuition?

Depending on where a student chooses to complete their mentored experience, they may need to provide documentation of health status, criminal background check, etc - any of these fees would be covered by the student. Refer to the University catalog for information about all tuition and fees (e.g. graduation, ordering transcripts, etc). The technology fee for online courses is usually included in the tuition.

Academic Honesty Agreement

UNIVERSITY of SAINT MARY

Preparing Leaders for the 21st Century

Introduction

Academic honesty is expected of all members of the University of Saint Mary community. It is an essential component of higher education and is necessary for true academic growth. Christian tradition and professional excellence demand that truth, honesty and academic integrity be valued in all of our interactions. Consistent with the University mission and values, academic honesty is essential in achieving one's God-given potential. Value-centered lives are meaningless if honesty is not one of those values. The bonds of community require that none of us knowingly discredit the value of a Saint Mary education. Respect for others requires that we acknowledge the sources of our information. Justice requires that we possess the skills and learning that we profess to have. Excellence requires that we do the best we can in everything we do, without resorting to dishonesty or other immoral behavior.

Academic Honesty

Academic honesty is the policy of the University of Saint Mary. Academic dishonesty is prohibited by the University of Saint Mary. Academic dishonesty includes, without limitation, any form of cheating whether in or out of the classroom; the presenting of purchased or stolen papers, computer programs, reports, or other written work as one's original work; failure to acknowledge the source of quotations, unique ideas, figures, tables, charts, and diagrams through academically acceptable attribution when these are used in papers, reports or formal presentations; falsification of information; and destruction, concealment or unauthorized modification of academic materials of the University, faculty, other student or any other person(s) for purposes of self-gain or diminishing the academic work of another. Because standards of citation, attribution and use of materials may vary between academic disciplines or within various specialties within an academic discipline, these general definitions should be considered base levels of academic dishonesty. Individual faculty may define further academic honesty expectations in course syllabi appropriate to their academic disciplines.

Academic Honesty Statement

Students are subject to the Academic Honesty policy in the University's catalog. In addition, each term, online students will be required to review and agree to the online student honor code stated below before they will be allowed to enter their online courses that term.

Student Consent

I agree to commit to uphold the University of Saint Mary's Academic Honesty Policy as stated in the University Catalog and all academic honesty policies that are communicated by my instructors in the syllabus or other areas of my online course. In addition to agreeing to adhere to these policies and to refrain from cheating, I will not use unauthorized aids during coursework or tests, fabrication of ideas or sources, plagiarism, or unauthorized collaboration or assistance from other students or others outside of my class to promote my academic success or diminish other's academic work. I understand that violation of this Honor Code will result in penalties ranging from failure of an assignment, failure in the course, dismissal from the online program, and/or dismissal from the University of Saint Mary. I also agree to communicate with my fellow online students and online instructors with respect and integrity.
